TO OUR PARTNERS

Strategic Highlights

At the beginning of 2018, the Board of Directors and Executive Director for Hope for Humanity, Inc. (HFH) announced its five-year mission goals:

- Focus Area 1 Expand the number of students being served
- Focus Area 2 Transition to South Sudanese teachers and leadership while also emphasizing more females to fill these roles
- Focus Area 3 Improving the school campus' facilities with solar and internet capabilities

This Impact Report demonstrates how these goals have been fulfilled.

Program Highlights

Your partnership with HFH helped make the mission possible on the Hope and Resurrection Secondary School (HRSS) campus! The program report features some of the meaningful changes in the lives of students and the Atiaba community. The program report also demonstrates the success of the mission with data to show how the quality of education on the campus continues to improve through national test scores while also meeting more need.

Financial Highlights

"What percentage of Hope for Humanity, Inc. expenses are spent for programs?"

One hundred percent of our expenses are necessary for us to provide our programs. We don't make any expenditures that are not required for us to be able to operate our organization. In this impact report we break the numbers down to demonstrate how donor's money is used to make the mission possible.

As we continue to move forward in the HFH mission, we not only want to equip students with educational opportunities, but we also want to inspire our students to be life-long learners who apply their education to better their lives and those around them.

HRSS Teachers, Leaders, and Students meet with the Minister of Education, The Honorable Awut Deng Acuil.

PROGRAM

Hope for Humanity, Inc. continue to carry out the mission of equipping South Sudan's girls and boys for leadership through quality education with a Christian foundation. The following is highlighted in this section:

HRSS Administrator, Awut Mayom Agok, with two students

Words from HRSS Administrator

Dear friends of Hope for Humanity,

I cannot say it enough and with more sincerity, how much impact your support has made in my community and my country at large through Hope and Resurrection Secondary School (HRSS). Your support through the years has been greatly influential in educating the youth of South Sudan. From the initial class of 2011 at Hope and Resurrection Secondary School through 2022, HRSS has graduated 352 students with 50 more students who just sat for their national exams in March 2023. This brings the total to 402 students that have matriculated and completed our secondary

Humanity, Inc. (HFH). The directors of Hope for Humanity make up the most resilient team that ever existed. During the most difficult situations in our country where every other NGO had to quit giving or closed down their projects, Hope for Humanity, Inc. has continued knocking at all your doors to sustain the support for Hope and Resurrection Secondary School. The feeding program for the school, the teachers' salaries, scholastic materials, the solar system, and much more have been achieved at HRSS through HFH support. During the five years of my service as the Administrator of Hope and Resurrection Secondary School, under the supervision of Suzanne Hicks Wright, a huge difference to the school has been made. The number of students enrolling in Form One has increased each year. At the same time, the number of students finishing Form Four has increased. Not only that, these graduates have passed the National Performance Standard Exam with 100% pass rate for the last five years.

Suzanne M. Wright (Hicks) is an amazing team leader that understands the people with whom she works. I began my career journey at Hope and Resurrection in 2018, and what a learning opportunity this has been. I started by giving myself time to get into classroom and teach. Against the odds, I have survived and learned much during these five years. The first word I ever heard when I became an administrator was, "Uh, a woman leading an institution of learning in a male dominated environment, what a joke!" I have heard this many times. With your support, I have been able to survive this bias against women in positions of leadership/authority. As an entering student at Hope and Resurrection in 2008, I was privileged to be among the few female students in the school. Against the odds and facing immense societal pressure, I escaped the customary early and forced marriage attempts, and instead completed my secondary education and went on to university.

It is your continued support that sustains our mission and makes all the difference. Thank you for your generous gifts to Hope for Humanity, Inc. We are thrilled to have your support. Through your donations, we have been able to accomplish so much and continue working towards improving and sustaining the education system at HRSS. You truly make the difference for the community of Atiaba, for South Sudan, and for the world. We are extremely grateful!

Peace,
Deborah Awut Mayom Agok
Hope and Resurrection School Administrator

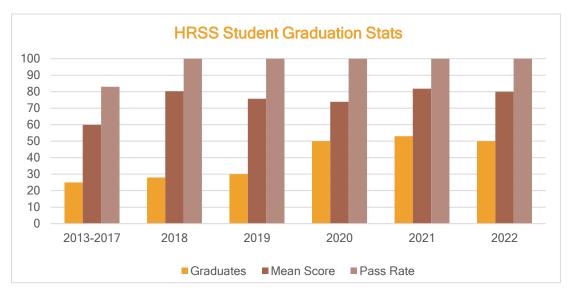

Quality Education on the Rise

The core foundation of our mission work is making quality education accessible to girls and boys in South Sudan. Our students exceptional scores on National graduation examinations significantly rose during 2018 to 2022.

Notes:

2013 test scores were eliminated from data because a different scoring method was used. 2022 test scores are estimates because scores were not available at the time of this data entry.

Mentionable First

- Class of 2018 First Class to have a class mean score in the 80th percentile.
- Class of 2020 The top scoring student is female, Sarah Akol Mading at 86.3%.
- Class of 2020 The largest number of class graduates: 53 graduates (19 girls 34 boys)

Results 2018-2022

- We are graduating 75% more students than previous years.
- HRSS Students National Examination Score is up more than 20%.
- Total Number of HRSS graduates is 402; 211 graduated in the last 5 years.
- 100% of all HRSS graduates from 2018 to 2022 passed the National Exam.

Meeting More Need

The Need for Secondary Education

Each year, HRSS received more applications from qualified potential new students than the school could accept. We made the decision to focus on how we could increase the number of students being educated each year. With the addition of two teacher positions and moving all administrative duties to a full-time leadership role on campus, we were able to educate approximately 30% more students than previous years.

Results 2018-2022

- We are educating approximately 325 students each year; a 30% increase.
- We are increasing literacy within South Sudan.
- More students in South Sudan are high school graduates.

The Need for Food

According to global emergency reports on the food crisis in 2023, South Sudan has 7.7 million people facing acute malnutrition or starvation as it enters its fifth year of severe food insecurity, *Catholic Charity says local NGOs are best placed to respond; and we do.

On the HRSS campus we served:

- More than 425,000 lunches were served to students, teachers, and staff from 2018-2022.
- Breakfast and dinner were served to approximately 90 girls, 14 faculty for seven days a week for 200+ weeks during 2018-2022.

Living Our Vision

South Sudan Leadership at HRSS

In 2021, Suzanne M. Wright (Hicks), our Executive Director wrote these words to donors and the Atiaba Community when the school became fully staffed with South Sudanese Professional Teachers - "many circumstances led to this change to happen in 2021, but the foundational belief has never changed. We (Hope for Humanity, Inc.) always believed, and it is our mission goal that South Sudanese people lead South Sudan. We (Hope for Humanity, Inc.) help this to be realized through the giving of secondary education." With the many years of education being available in South Sudan, the opportunity to have South Sudanese teachers/leadership on campus was a natural next step in our mission. We lead by example by hiring professional women and putting them in leadership (demonstrating and changing the false narrative that women are not capable of learning and are only to be wives to serve the men). We lead by example by putting in place a hiring policy based on qualification not nepotism. We lead by example demonstrating that professional South Sudanese teachers are qualified by their education and good teaching practices not their nationality breaking the internal oppression and misbelief that only American, Kenyan, or Uganda professionals are the only people who can offer quality education to children in South Sudan. Donors financially support the good work of students and teach students to give back what they are given.

Improving our Campus

Focus Area 3 - Solar and Internet Capabilities

In 2018, With the help of partners we received the financial resources and the professional talent to install the internet on the HRSS campus. This effort has had a big impact to the quality of education being offered at the school and the efficiency of administration and operations. Teachers are now able to look up important information as needed for class lessons, teachers and they can contact family on a regular basis while living on the campus throughout the year. Communication between the USA HFH Directors and HRSS Leadership takes place as needed and can be done not only by email, but also in live chats and video conferencing. Effective communication and transparency were made possible for the first time with the installation of the internet on campus in 2018!

With the generosity of partners, we were able to purchase solar power for the girls' dormitory that provides lights each evening to our female students who live on campus. This allows them to study and read in the evenings. We also were able to replace our diesel-powered generator that runs our school water pump and provides the teachers' quarters with light in the evening with solar energy. This change expanded the amount of time we can provide electricity on the campus and allows us to provide lighting in the classrooms for the first time. It also provides a savings to our yearly budget and made our teachers and students safer on campus because we no longer purchase and store diesel fuel on campus.

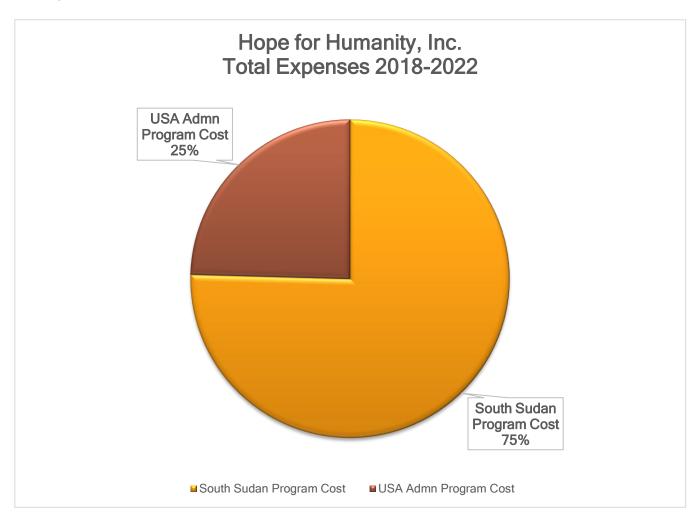

FINANCIALS

"What percentage of Hope for Humanity, Inc. expenses are spent for programs?

One hundred percent of our expenses are necessary for us to provide our programs. We don't make any expenditures that are not required for us to be able to operate our organization.

Profit & Losses 2018 - 2022

- Donations $1,005,000
- Expenses $1,105,000

Takeaways – Financials for 2018-2022

- Efficient Rating We spent 75 cents of every dollar to on the ground programs
- Best Practices We have improved budgeting and accounting of HFH and HRSS
- Navigating losses Due to COVID, inflation and other unexpected challenges, program cost are exceeding donations by 10%

Efficient Rating

In traditional reporting of charity fund expenses, administrative costs are reported separately from direct program costs. Among charity watchdog organizations:

- The Better Business Bureau says at least 65% of expenses should be for programs.
- Charity Navigator says the most efficient charities spend 75%+ on programs.
- The American Institute of Philanthropy says at least 75% is ideal.

Using this traditional method, the above pie chart demonstrates that Hope for Humanity, Inc. falls within the most efficient charities according to our spending.

Best Practices

Many non-profit organizations that grow from the love of friends and family who desire to meet a great need find accomplishing their mission with best practices in place a challenge. This is almost always due to the lack of resources causing them to choose between meeting the incredible need in programs, while keeping to reasonable administrative costs in the USA. Many non-profit management textbooks have been written about this dilemma. It is almost always a tremendous balancing act for any successful organization to manage. Unfortunately, mighty programs will fall without good administration. The Hope for Humanity, Inc. Board of Directors have managed this well. As the organization has grown, financial professionals were sought out as volunteers and hired. These past five years, we have had in place a professional bookkeeper and accountant in Virginia to account for all the organization's profits/losses and expenses. In South Sudan we have a bookkeeper through a partnership with the Catholic Diocese that helps with the accounts in South Sudan. In 2018 we hired an administrator with a B.A. in Business Administration and Accounts for our school's local accounts and budgeting. These three tiers produce financial accountability and oversight in addition to scrutiny by both the Board and Executive Director of Hope for Humanity, Inc.

Navigating Losses

Navigating growth can be tricky and an organization must do it through times of plenty and scarcity, through times of enthusiasm and indifference, through times of great accomplishment and times of heart-breaking challenges. Reflecting over the past five years, it has often felt like scarcity and heart-breaking challenges were what we had plenty of. We could see two common themes in the Executive Director's newsletters and annual reports. She always wrote with passion and gratitude sharing the "latest good news at HRSS in-spite-of the challenge." In borrowing her theme, we will report over the past five years, inspite-of a tremendous effort to cut cost in bank fees, transportation, fuel by installing more solar power, and purchasing supplies and food from local businesses; the high cost of the Covid 19 pandemic and other challenges has meant our costs have exceeded our donations by 10%. The Hope for Humanity, Inc. Directors in the USA along with the South Sudanese team of leaders at HRSS have stayed focused on ensuring a successful mission as we grow through the love and desire of friends and family to meet a great need.

TOGETHER WITH OUR PARTNERS

The 402 graduates, who have become teachers, advocates, clergy, health professionals, educated mothers, engineers, and other kinds of leaders from Hope and Resurrection Secondary School were made possible by your charitable acts in the past. Thank you!

The futures of the children in Atiaba, S. Sudan will be made by the decisions that we make now. We hope you will continue to be a part of this transformation of lives by supporting HFH.

Looking Ahead

While we are pleased about the school's growth and the successes of students and staff, we know that our partnership with the community in Atiaba is not complete. We also know that the work to help fulfill the vision for South Sudan is not the sole responsibility of a single individual, but it is the collective commitment of many. Together the HFH directors and donors, the South Sudanese Department of Education, HRSS's teachers and leaders, and the Atiaba community by working together, will make sure that education at HRSS is successful.

As we look forward and plan, we are in conversation with our partners (The Honorable Awut Deng Acuil, The Minister of Education in South Sudan; Directors and Donors of HFH; HRSS Leadership; Atiaba Leadership). By working together, we are thoughtfully setting new HFH goals for the future success of Hope and Resurrection Secondary School. As members of the Board of Hope for Humanity, we are always strategizing and implementing ways to ensure the sustainability of Hope and Resurrection Secondary School

As a supporter of the school, you too share in the satisfaction that the school's mission to educate the future leaders of South Sudan occurs daily on the campus. We ask that you too take this time to think of how you will continue your commitment to students at Hope and Resurrection School and review your giving to this important work.
